Committee of Twenty-five Meets and Adopts Resolutions.

They Will Make a Contest at the Republican State Convention.

TO "OPPOSE AND SUPPRESS FRAUD."

Politicians Regard This Step as a "Feeler." All, They Say, Will Depend Upon the Support of Brookfield Followers.

The Anti-Platt Committee of Twenty-five was in session for over two hours yesterday afternoon in one of the parlors of the Lawyers' Club, No. 120 Broadway. Cornelius N. Bliss presided, there being a full representation. The meeting was a secret one, and at its conclusion Mr. Bilsa said that several resolutions had been passed and that he considered them self-explana-

The first resolution was presented by Paul D. Cravath, and was as follows: Whereas, the results already made known of avestigation into the methods by which the resent so-called County Committee has been constituted conclusively disclose that so large a majority of its members were not houestly shosen that the committee itself, as such, is rightly to be considered a fraud, and Whereas, the Committee of Five Hundred, at Heretofore it has been the custom to stamp only the coats worn by the men, but a recent order requires all patrolmen to have their trousers stamped patroimen to have their trousers stamped also. The annual Spring inspection of uniforms takes place on next Tuesday and Wednesday, and all the policemen must have their trousers stamped with their shield number in time for the inspection. Forty-one new policemen who have finished their probationary term were sworn in at Headquarters yesterday and assigned to precinct duty.

Had Too Many Gum Shoes. If any individual or firm has lost twelve pairs of rubber overshoes, an appearance ould be made this morning in Centre should be made this morning in Centre Street Police Court, where the valuable goods awart an owner. Christian Heintz, of No. 72 Bowery, and John Feltman, of No. 13 same street, are held in custody, charged with stealing them. The prisoners calm not to know each other. Heintz says he bought the goloshes for 5 cents from a man at his lodging house. The two were hawking gum shoes in Barter street at cut prices when Policeman Bernstein, of the Elizabeth Street Station, took them into camp late Friday night.

Chess Cable Match Arrangements. At the second meeting of the native chess players of Great Britain and Ireland, held at the rooms of the British Chess Ciub. O Covent Garden, recently, Sir George Newnes, Bart, chairman, announced that a team of fifteen players had been selected for the cable match with this country. Of that number, the chairman stated, eight would actually play, the others constituting the honorary reserve. The final eight will not be named prior to the morning of the match, viz, 9:30 o'clock (New York time), of March 18.

Edward Margraf, a mechanic, just of age, was fatally injured, at 10:15 yesterday morning, while at work on the new build ing, Nos. 23 to 27 City Hall place, and died two hours later in the Hudson Street Hos pital. No one about the building could tell exactly how Margraf received his injuries. He had charge of the cable guy lines attached to the tackle and blocks which were being used to raise Iron girders to the top of the building. In some manner he fell between the drums upon which the cable wound. He was drawn between the coils of the steel rope in an instant. The engine was stopped as soon as his first cry alarmed the engineer, but afforded him no relief, as the weight of a beam hanging at the fourth story held taut the cable which had caught him.

He writhed in agony for twenty-five minutes, until one of the cable drums was taken off, after the weight of the beam had been removed.

A surgeon from the Hudson Street Hospital found that Margraf had been crushed beyond all hope of recovery. He was removed to the hospital, an almost shapeless mass, dying an hour later. While he was being removed another workman fainted and was barely saved by his fellow work, men from falling through the beams into the cellar.

a subsidy amounting to not more than 100,000 a year, but with certain limitations.

All the propositions before the committee offer to carry Government messages free for a period of twenty years. The committee will, it is said, agree to a bill granting this subsidy, but with a modification which will provide that at the expiration of the twenty years the difference between the bonus of $160,000 a year paid the company and the cost of the messages sent over the line shall be set apart to the redit of the Government to be used by the Government in payment for cable tolls after the subsidy has ceased.

No member of the committee believes that the full amount of $160,000 would be used in any one year in cable tolls on this line, and this provision is deemed necessary. Some measure along these lines will be favorably reported to the Senate.
